

10. The rules of engagement of godly living – Part 3

8/9/2020

If there is anyone who thinks that the Bible is an ancient book and is not applicable to the 21st-century living, that person does not have any idea about the Bible. I can even challenge that he or she has never read the Bible from cover to cover.

We can defy against the Word of God with flimsy excuses, but the truth remains and we are responsible for what we don't do after we learned about them.

This portion of the Book of Colossians is so practical to our lives. If we follow these principles that were mentioned in the next 8 verses, we wouldn't have any marital conflicts or divorces, or children and parents problems, or employer and employee problems. Of course, that would dissolve any reason for employee union and greedy employer issues automatically. But we are going to cover just one verse today.

A. WHAT WIVES SHOULD DO

Colossians 3:18 Wives, submit to your own husbands, as is fitting in the Lord.

The ancient Greek word "hypotassō" that is translated 'submit' is essentially a word borrowed from the military. It literally means "to be under in rank." It speaks of the way that an army is organized among levels of rank. There are levels of rank, and you are obligated to respect those in the higher rank. In non-military use, it was "a voluntary attitude of giving in, cooperating, assuming responsibility".

A Private can be smarter, more talented, and a better person than a General. But he is still under rank to the General. He isn't submitted to the General so much as a person as he is to the General as a General.

In the same way, the wife doesn't submit to her husband because he deserves it. She submits because he is her husband. The idea of submission doesn't have anything to do with someone being smarter or better or more talented. It has to do with a God-appointed order.

Some people say that a wife should submit to her husband as if he were God himself. That would be far from the truth. No place in the Scripture it teaches a complete submission except to God and God alone. To violate this is to commit the sin of idolatry.

Here are a few points I'd like to make regarding submitting to her own husband:

- 1) For wives, submission to their husbands is a part of their Christian life.
- 2) When a wife doesn't obey this phrase "submit to your own husband as is fitting in the Lord," she doesn't just fall short as a wife. She falls short as a follower of Jesus Christ.
- 3) This submission has nothing to do with your husband's intelligence, or giftedness or capability. It has to do with honoring the Lord Jesus Christ.
- 4) When the husband asks the wife to sin, she must not submit.
- 5) When the husband is violent and physically threatening, the wife may not submit.
- 6) When the husband breaks the marriage bond by adultery, the wife does not need to submit to her husband being in an adulterous relationship.

God's way of submission does not have selfishness, conceit, competition, pulling rank, domination, and dishonor. Our Lord Jesus modeled for us:

Matthew 20:28 just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many."

Do you see how important understanding context is? It helps us think biblically rather than swing to cultural extremes or our narrow human mindset.

Ladies, great philosopher Ranae Hamby said, "A submissive wife has someone else to blame when things go wrong." Keep that in mind.

B. GOING IN MORE IN-DEPTH

There are parallel verses for this. We can find it in Ephesians 5:

Ephesians 5:22-23a Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. 23 For the husband is head of the wife,

He gives two reasons for this command:

1) The lordship of Christ in v22

2) The headship of the man in Christ in the first portion of v23.

When the Christian wife submits herself to Christ and lets Him be the Lord of her life, she will have no difficulty submitting to her husband. This does not mean that she becomes a slave or a doormat because the husband also ought to submit to Christ. And if both are living under the lordship of Christ, there can only be harmony. Headship is NOT a dictatorship.

Ladies, you are submitting to your husband because the Lord puts your husband as the head of your family and gives him more responsibilities and more accountabilities, not because you are any less than him or inferior in comparison with him. Our God is not a gender bias God at all.

Some of you ladies are thinking, "OK, preacher, maybe here in Ephesians and Colossians it says, "submit to your own husbands", but what about other places in the Bible?" I am glad you asked:

1 Peter 3:1 Wives, likewise, be submissive to your own husbands

Are you convinced that it is the Lord's desire and command for you, wives, to submit to your own husbands? It is repeated in 3 different places.

Submitting to your husband should not be taken to mean that wives are allowing their husband to walk all over them; nor are they to be silent slaves who wordlessly carry out their husband's orders. Absolutely NOT.

It means that wives are to willingly support their husband's leadership – not interfering or undermining him, especially in front of your children. They are to be active participants in the challenging task of running a Christian home. They are to do everything they can to encourage and support their husbands' leadership in the home.

When the husband is in error or even in outright sin, it is the wife's responsibility to lovingly confront him, pointing him back to the lordship of Christ as the Ultimate Authority.

The Christian husband and wife should pray together and spend time in the Word, so that they may know God's will for their individual lives and their home. Most of the marital conflicts I have dealt with as a pastor have stemmed from the failure of the husband and or wife to submit to Christ, spend time in His Word, and seek to do His will each day, rather they want to do what they want to do selfishly.

This explains why a Christian should marry a Christian and not become “unequally yoked together” with an unbeliever as it is written in 2 Corinthians 6:14.

I almost can hear some of you ladies’ thoughts now, “I married to a heathen or almost heathen. What do I do? Can I dump him?” Let see what the Lord says about that:

1 Corinthians 7:13 And a woman who has a husband who does not believe, if he is willing to live with her, let her not divorce him.

In the last portion of v22 in Ephesians 5, the Scripture says, “as to the Lord” in God’s instruction for wives. Sadly, some men have twisted this to say that a wife should treat her husband as if he were her Lord. Nothing could be further from the truth. We have one Lord – the Triune God made visible in the flesh by Jesus Christ.

C. HONOR THE LORD

Ephesians 5:23b-24 as also Christ is head of the church; and He is the Savior of the body. 24 Therefore, just as the church is subject to Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in everything.

If a husband loves and sacrifices himself for the sake of his wife, as Christ did for us, then his wife will joyfully love and sacrifice herself for him in return, as the church does for Jesus.

Now, some of us may have cast a wary glance at the words “in everything.” We have to be very careful not to overstate this biblical teaching on authority. If husbands misuse their God-given authority – for example, by commanding what God forbids or forbidding what God commands – then the wife’s duty is no longer conscientiously to submit, but conscientiously to refuse to do so. To submit in such circumstances would be to disobey God.

Here is a simple principle: Wife must submit to her husband right up to the point where obedience to human authority would involve disobedience to God.

D. SUBMISSION FROM YOUR HEART

Since we talk about the theological aspect of submitting to husband, ladies, let’s talk about the practical side as well.

1) Respect

Ephesians 5:33 Let each one of you in particular so love his own wife as himself, and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

You really cannot say that you submit to your husband if you don’t respect him in words and actions. You are NOT married to a child, rather you married the man whom you were deeply in love with. I hope that you still are in love with him at the same depth. Do not treat him like one of your children.

Then, an objection might come up from some of you, “But my husband is so childish and so selfish.” OK, here is your secret weapon for you: Tattle on him to God in your prayers. He is far more capable to change him better than you can. At the same time, expect that the Lord will start to change you as well.

By the way, don't try to change him by yourself unless he is on diaper because you only get frustrated with yourself.

2) Be careful how and what you say about your husband

The late Ruth Graham, the wife of the late evangelist Billy Graham, was married over sixty years, once said, "It is God's job to keep Billy humble; it is my job to love him." There are too many Christian wives who think that it is their God-given job to keep their husbands humble, even belittle them. Guess what, the Lord has never given you that job.

When someone says nice things about your husband, please don't cut him down or belittle him, especially in front of him. It only shows your disrespect for him no matter what you say afterward, like "I was just kidding, Sweetheart."

If you are thinking, "Come on, preacher, have some sense of humor." OK, let me put it in this way and see if you still think that it is a joke to you:

Let's say, a friend of your husband or your friend complimented how you look nice in your new dress. Your husband who was standing next to you said, "Nah, she doesn't look good in that dress. She looks like a fat cow." Then, followed by, "I was just kidding, Sweetheart." Do you still take what your husband said as a joke? Why not? Don't you have a sense of humor?

When was the last time you gave a good honest hearty compliment or praise to your husband? If you have to think for some time, you are well overdue. Please look for good things that your husband does even though he may not meet your high standard. You will be surprised how much your husband is pumped up and looking for the next good thing to please you.

One more thing, ladies, you are not right all the time and every time either. I admit that we husbands do many silly and dumb things. But when your husband does right and you were wrong, it is perfectly OK for you to admit that you were wrong and say, "I am sorry." If you do, your husband might stand there with his opened mouth for a few minutes in a surprise.

3) Don't be historical

An exhausted man who had another argument with his wife the night before he came to work. It was obvious that he had a rough night. His coworkers asked him if everything is OK with him. He gasped and said, "Whenever my wife and I argue, she doesn't become hysterical but historical."

Ladies, if your husband sincerely had asked you to forgive his sins or mistakes and you forgave him for it, then, please don't bring that back to haunt him or bash him. Aren't you glad that our gracious and merciful God doesn't remind us of your previous sins each time you come to Him in prayer?

E. AT THE SAME TIME

At the same time, I must say this. "Authority of the husband" in the biblical sense is not a synonym for 'tyranny.' If you are being abused or know someone who is, please know that God doesn't sentence women to a lifetime of verbal, emotional, or physical violence. That is not God's will and design for marriage. If your husband is hurting you, or if you know someone who is being abused, God is not expecting you or them to take it. Get help, contact police or sheriff.

A word to husband, if any of you are physically abusing your wife, you are a total coward. You do that because she cannot hit you back or she is too weak to fight back to protect herself. If you need a sparring partner to show off your male chauvinist pig attitude, come see me. I will spar with you. I will make sure that you will think twice about abusing your wife next time.

F. APPLICATIONS

1) The wife submits to her husband in order to bring honor to God.

2) Submitting to her husband requires respect for him from her heart.

Every wife either can build the home or tear it down just like her husband can. If she walks with the Lord, she will be a builder. But if she disobeys the Lord, she will be a destroyer.

Proverbs 14:1 The wise woman builds her house, But the foolish pulls it down with her hands.

3) The wife must submit to her husband right up to the point where obedience to human authority would involve disobedience to God.
